graduation success

Tuesday dreamed of being the first person in her family to graduate from high school ever since she was a little girl. While education was not a priority in her home, she was self-motivated and quickly became a model student during her freshman year. Unfortunately this all changed her sophomore year when she was forced out of the family home due to no fault of her own. Over the span of a couple of months she moved between foster homes, group homes, and relatives, often couch surfing. She missed countless days of school and was soon failing all of her courses.

After confiding in her math teacher, Tuesday got her first glimmer of hope. Her teacher was willing to be her guardian. With a consistent, safe place to stay, Tuesday could focus on school again and successfully brought her grades up to a 3.5 GPA with the help of her school and Treehouse support team.

While Tuesday continued to excel in the classroom her junior year, the trauma from her childhood had manifested into crippling self-doubt and anxiety. These emotions culminated her senior year and she chose not to enroll in school. Treehouse Education Specialist Barbara Rockey worked diligently with Tuesday and her counselor to help build her confidence and get her reenrolled. Barbara helped Tuesday develop short-term goals focused on time and stress management, and connected her to a Treehouse volunteer tutor to help her successfully complete her last few challenging classes. Thanks to Barbara and Tuesday's hard work and their efforts researching and applying for scholarships Tuesday not only graduated with a strong GPA and SAT score, she also got a full ride scholarship to Western Washington University! Today, Tuesday is busy pursuing her next dream—becoming an orthodontist.
